

#1 ACTIVE HEALTHY KIDS GLOBAL ALLIANCE

ACTIVE HEALTHY KIDS GLOBAL ALLIANCE

Report, tools, on-going 2014

Topic for advocacy HEPA - Physical Activity and Health and Local clubs / Education and Active Schools / Obesity and Behaviour Change

<https://www.activehealthykids.org/>
<https://www.activehealthykids.org/report-card-archive/>

Description of the good example

The Active Healthy Kids Global Alliance is a network of researchers, health professionals and stakeholders who are working together to advance physical activity levels among children and youth from around the world. It was established in 2014, following the success of the world's first Global Summit on the Physical Activity of Children in Toronto. For the first time, the network harmonised children and youth's physical activity indicators across 38 countries from six continents that were compared to seek solutions to increase childhood physical activity globally.

Target - Who can best use this example or document?

Policy makers, local authorities, state, local education and health agencies, local and national governments, National non-governmental organizations (NGOs) that focus on the health of children in school. Researchers, funders, and public health practitioners, school health councils, school nutrition directors, physical education teachers, curriculum coordinators.

**All information in this entry is sourced from the link above and contact mentioned in the document.*

Highlights and outcomes

Why could it be useful for your organisation and advocacy?

The report is evidence-based practice, and it supports our advocacy principles: it is innovative, brings sustainable activation, sustainable partnership, Education (training) for kids, parents, trainers, an local community, it has local community approach, it is transferable (local, national, international) and supports advocacy on all levels.

Learning points - What can we learn from it?

How to advocate for and devise solutions to enhance physical activity opportunities for children and youth. How to develop a report card? What are the core physical activity indicators?

Further information

Active Healthy Kids Global Alliance
 info@activehealthykids.org
<https://www.activehealthykids.org/>